

DEATH IN THE PATH
OF RUSSIAN WINDTERRIBLY FATAL STORM
ALONG SEA OF AZOV.

Cities Labeled With the Ground and Their Residents Crushed—American Tourists Believed to Have Perished General Foreign News—Lake Breaks Out Its Dam.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 27.—A wind of death. No other name can describe the cyclone that swept across the sea of Azov Saturday. It will be impossible for days yet to compute the damage done, but it is almost certain at least 1,000 persons have perished, some by drowning, others by being crushed under falling houses and trees. The excitement is great among the American colony in this city, for it is feared at least two parties of American tourists were on the sea of Azov at the time the wind did its deadly work. Everybody is praying that some lucky chance delayed the excursionists so that they could not reach their embarkment port to-day. At a late hour there was still only a general report of the disaster on which to base surmises of the Americans' safety. This report recounts wide havoc.

The wind was first felt at Nogaik. Nogaik is peopled mostly by fishermen, who were out on the water. The village was razed, overturned, as though an immense plow had been pushed through it. Lying everywhere were women and children, dead or in the last agonies. The shallow waters of the sea of Azov were lashed to such a height that it was plain every fishing boat must have been sunk.

The cyclone swept on to the north-east after wrecking Nogaik. Its path seems to have been unusually wide, for at Marinopol it devastated the country to a point eleven miles inland, and had its outer edge far upon the sea. Marinopol was practically blotted out of existence. Not three houses in a hundred are left standing.

It is estimated that over 200 persons perished in this town alone. North of Marinopol the storm seems to have made a sudden turn to the eastward over Dolga points, its left edge inflicting slight damage to the town of Berdinsk. Houses there were unroofed and a dozen persons were killed by falling timbers.

Once at sea the storm made its full fury felt. Of the steamers that touch at the port of Berdiansk, not one had come in at the hour of the late report. Grave fears are expressed that every craft in the sea has gone to the bottom and that every passenger is drowned. When the wind swept over the northern end of Azov it took a new course, going southerly along the coast of the land of the Black Cossacks. In turn Eisk and Achuev were ravaged, each town being almost totally destroyed. Telegraphic communication with this district is suspended and it is impossible to learn the extent of the destruction, but at least 1,000 persons must have died on the two shores. The storm, as nearly as can be learned, seemed to suddenly lose its force near Temrinsk and passed off with comparative quiet southerly over the Black sea.

LAKE BREAKS OUT ITS DAM.

Indian Government Warns Valley People in Time to Save Their Lives.

SIMLA, India, Aug. 27.—The waters of Gohna lake yesterday broke the dam which controlled them and thousands of tons of water poured through the valley below like a cataract. Huge boulders were swept along like pebbles, trees were uprooted and carried on the breast of the flood, and villages along the valley were swept out of existence an instant after the roaring torrent of whitened waters struck them. Elaborate railway and telegraph arrangements were made, and when it became known the dam would go out the people nearest the point of danger were carried by the railways to places of safety, while those further down the valley were notified to pack up their belongings and be prepared to leave their homes when called upon by the government to do so. Not a human life was lost.

HEAVY FIRE LOSSES ON SUNDAY

Many Declarations Reported—Rochester-ville Damage Estimated at $200,000

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 27.—An extensive fire took place yesterday afternoon in Rochester, a suburb of this city, doing damage estimated at upward of $200,000. The fire started in piles of lumber belonging to John R. Booth, and owing to great distance of water supply soon got beyond control and extended toward the city until the wind fortunately changed. The territory covered by the fire was about ten acres. On this were between six and eight million feet of lumber belonging to Mr. Booth, valued at $150,000; six railway cars with lumber belonging to the Export Lumber company, the Cedar street public school, valued at $8,000. Several smaller buildings were also burned. The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary. At 10 p. m. it was burning brightly and should a strong breeze spring up the loss will be great.

It is said many of the miners are now removing their tools from the mines, and it is believed the operators will carry out their intention of resuming work with non-union men. The miners of the Massillon district, about 6,000 in number, have been on strike since Feb. 17.

No Attempt to Start Bristol Mill.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Aug. 27.—The police officials were notified by the management of the Bristol mill last night that their attendance at the mill gates this morning would not be needed, as no attempt would be made to run the mills. The operators look upon this as a good sign, and will hold a mass meeting in the vicinity of the mill in order to give the weak hearted courage. The utmost quiet prevails among the strikers. It is almost an assured fact that three more of the large yarn corporations will start up this week at the old rate of wages.

Bell of Montrose, populist member of congress from the second congressional district, publishes a statement in the people's party paper, a Waite organ, in which he says that he is not a candidate for governor and will not allow the use of his name at the state convention here Sept. 4. His statement practically leaves the way clear for Waite's renomination, as no other man has been prominently urged in opposition to the incumbent.

TARIFF BILL SAFE FROM GROVER'S PENNO CHANCE OF A VETO IS THE DECLARATION.

Measure Returned to the White House Today and Will Become a Law at Midnight—Collectors Have Been Instructed as to their Duties by Carlisle.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The tariff bill was returned to the White House this morning. It is stated authoritatively that a veto is out of the question. The bill will become a law at 12 o'clock tonight. Carlisle this afternoon issued instructions to collectors. President Cleveland was at work yesterday clearing up the accumulated routine business of his office prior to his departure for Gray Gables Wednesday. The treasury department is full of business getting ready for the new law which goes into effect to-morrow. Several disputed points will be decided in advance, so that collectors may be spared as much trouble as possible. No technicalities will be insisted upon, and it is given out officially that importers will have the benefit of the doubt whenever possible. The new whisky tax necessitates no change in the system immediately. The playing card stamps are all ready and some trouble may be looked for in having them affixed to cards in the hands of dealers.

The department has been given a preliminary appropriation of $3,000, with which to prepare blanks and lay out the work of collecting the income tax. A direct appropriation for the execution of the law will be asked for at the next session of congress. Both houses of congress hold nominal sessions to-day, but there will be few beyond doorkeepers and pages to witness the actual adjournment to-morrow.

The tariff seems settled but it is only for a while, for already plans are being laid for more legislation on the old subject at the next session. So far as one can judge from the sentiments expressed by both senators and representatives as they leave for home the country will, in the next session, be subjected to more tinkering on the tariff. Coal, iron, sugar, woolen, and cotton manufactures, and some other items, will be made the subject of attack in both senate and house.

MANY BILLS PASSED BY CONGRESS

Laws Enacted at the Close of the Session—The Arid Land Bill.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The last month of the present session of congress, excepting the ten days during which the tariff bill has been in the President's hands, has been fairly productive of general legislation. All of the appropriation bills have become laws. The general deficiency and the sundry civil bills were both signed late in the session, and the latter measures embraces two important pieces of legislation—the appropriation of $300,000 for a government exhibit at the Cotton States exposition, to be held at Atlanta, and the cession to each of the arid land states and the states which may be formed from the territories of 1,000,000 acres each of desert lands for reclamation; a plan which is intended to advance the movement for irrigation in the west and to partially take the place of the scheme for irrigating by the general government which has been fostered by the western members.

The only financial measure which has been enacted by the Fifty-third congress, except the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act, became a law Sept. 13. It was the bill introduced by Representative Cooper of Indiana to subject to state and municipal taxation the national bank notes and United States treasury notes, under the same provisions by which gold, silver and other money is taxed. It is left optional with the states to tax those heretofore exempted forms of money.

Two important investigations desired by the house committee on labor have been authorized. One is for an investigation into the effects of machinery on labor, with reference to its productive power and effects upon wages, hours of work, and employment of women and children, and the second for an investigation of the extent of the employment of women and children and the conditions under which they work. Both inquiries will be conducted by the commissioner of labor.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—An unwelcome house-warming was given the Knights of Pythias encamped in the city of tents around the Washington monument yesterday afternoon. It came in the form of a thunder shower, which swept over the city almost without warning, and then settled into a steady rain until sunset. Several tents were dismantled by the sheets of rain which beat against them and the lightning was unpleasantly sharp.

There were reunions and cheers for the arriving companies, while the bands in camp kept up a continual concert. Special trains were pulling into the depots and the brightly uniformed commands were marching up Pennsylvania avenue through the rain.

Among the prominent divisions which arrived yesterday were those from New York, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Joseph, Chicago and Colorado. President Cleveland has definitely promised to review the men and parade to-morrow. A reviewing stand will be erected for him in front of the executive mansion. Gen. Thirteen of the injured were taken to the Memorial hospital at Orange in ambulances for treatment. Three of the number, it is believed, can not recover. The car left the track and rolled over and over down an embankment and came to a stop about fifty feet below. The passengers in the car were thrown into a mass of struggling, shrieking humanity, who every moment expected to be hurled into eternity. They were cut by the broken glass that rained upon them at each turn of the ill-fated car. The motorman attributed the accident to a defective brake, but witnesses say it was caused by the spreading of a rail.

Gordon, who shot and killed Patrick Owens of Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad at Deerfield Friday night, and a few hours later shot and probably mortally wounded Officer McGrath at Mayfair, were surrounded and captured by police in the Elk Grove woods, near the Desplaines river, at noon Saturday.

Their capture was only effected after a six hours' chase and the exchange of fully 100 shots. The desperadoes fought off the blue coats and excited civilian participants in the man-hunt until their ammunition was exhausted and then, unable longer to reply to the fire that was poured in upon their retreat, the men sought safety in flight. Bullets from the officers' revolvers brought both men to the earth and when the police apprehended their game the men were weak from loss of blood.

He thought his position would screen him from arrest, but Nicaragua had never recognized him officially nor granted him an exequatur. WORK IN JANESVILLE WATCHED IN LONDON UNION Y. M. C. A. MEETING BRINGS OUT A LETTER.

George Williams, the Founder of the Association Writes to Commend the Bower City Branch—Details of Last Evening's Meeting—Brief Addresses By Local Workers.

Friends of the Janesville Y. M. C. A. filled the Congregational church last evening. The last of the union services was devoted to Y. M. C. A. work and there were brief but inspiring addresses by B. F. Dunwiddie, Rev. S. P. Wilder and John M. Whitehead. Archie Crawford sang with fervor and feeling that stirring song "Throw Out the Life Line" and there was other music by the Baptist choir. Mrs. L. E. Beers, president of the Woman's Auxiliary, was called upon for a few remarks and introduced a letter from George Williams of London, the venerable founder of the Y. M. C. A. Mrs. Beers said:

"The question is often asked, 'How does our Y. M. C. A. work help our young men?' Concisely stated the word 'help' contains the key note of the Association work. It is not surprising that a young man at the outset of his career thinks less of his soul's welfare than of his physical necessities, for heaven seems very far off and life and its responsibilities are very near, and the first serious problem that demands prompt solution is not 'How shall I get to heaven,' but 'How shall I feed myself, and where shall I find my clothing while I stay on earth?'"

"Hence as a logical sequence, comes the conclusion, that we who wish to help the young men of our community, must consider first their temporal needs, and then we shall find the field all ready for spiritual sowing."

"Clearly defined, this is the aim of the Y. M. C. A., to aid the young man in the development of all the possibilities of his nature, spiritually, intellectually and physically."

"I wish I had time to tell you of the wonderful activities in the association work in all parts of the world—of the branches in India, Germany, England, Australia and the far away summer land of Japan. Inspiring reports come to us of thousands of souls won to a higher spiritual life."

"There is a glowing picture of devoted christian work in the life story of William E. Lewis, who gave the last eighteen years of his life to the organization of the Y. M. C. A. of Wisconsin. When called to take charge of this work as general secretary he was pondering grave questions. 'Am I making the best of my life? Am I doing the work my Master intended I should do?' and he had decided to devote his life solely to religious work. Just at this time came an offer of an official position at Washington, with a salary of $1,500 a year. Then came a night of struggle and temptation. 'Did I mean what I said when I told the Lord I would do his work?' he questioned. The answer was characteristic of the man. 'I meant what I said.' He came to Wisconsin and struggled with many privations for a few years, for his salary was small. But he built the foundations of our glorious Y. M. C. A. work. He finished his labors three years ago, literally 'dying in the harness.' At early dawn in a tent on the shores of Lake Geneva, at the secretarial convention, as he struggled with the last adversary, he whispered 'Brothers, I'm off duty! Ah! that is the watchword for us all, friends, 'duty.'"

"I will tell you briefly the story of another association worker, whose life for the last fifty years has answered the question he asked himself, 'How can I help the young men of London?' Half a century ago, George Williams came to London and commenced work in a drapery establishment in St. Paul's Churchyard. He became concerned about the spiritual condition of thousands of clerks in the business houses of London. Few belonged to any church or cared for their spiritual welfare. In June, 1844, twelve young men met in his bedroom to talk the matter over. They asked each other, and went to the source of all help, and asked their Master in prayer the solemn question: 'How can we help the young men of London?' They formed a prayer union, and from this small beginning arose the World's Young Men's Christian Association. This summer, in June, thousands of delegates assembled in London, to celebrate the semi-centennial of the London association and honor its revered founder."

"A few months ago, with a feeling of reverence for this devoted christian worker, and perhaps desiring to test the bond of fellowship that binds these associations together, I wrote to Sir George Williams giving detailed plans of our proposed building, telling him of all our financial difficulties, of our firm determination to finish our building without indebtedness, our hopes, our fears, our prayers."

Immediately this tender bond of brotherhood quivered as with an electric touch, and this response came across the ocean:

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH YARD, LONDON, ENG.—DEAR MADAME: I duly received your kind and interesting favor of the 7th inst., and in reply I should like to express the pleasure it always affords me to hear news of the Young Men's Christian Association and its methods of work in America. I can assure you that, speaking for myself and those friends of the Y. M. C. A. in London, the labors and remarkable achievements of our fellow members across the Atlantic are watched with the keenest and most sympathetic interest, and we are proud to feel that we are all united in a common bond of fellowship. I heartily endorse your views respecting a 'liberal conservatism' in our association work."

Most certainly I feel the necessity of conserving the fundamental principles of the Gospel as set forth in the word of God. Thus only can our efforts for the spiritual and temporal welfare of young men and women receive the blessing from Almighty God. I most warmly congratulate you and the members of the Janesville branch upon the very handsome building which you are erecting. It will be an immense acquisition to you in the work and I sincerely trust the birthplace of many souls who shall be 'born again' within its walls. We are hoping to welcome many at our Jubilee conference. Perhaps some from the Janesville Y. M. C. A. may be among them, in that case we may hear more of your progress in the far west. Please convey my kindest and most heartfelt greetings to your committee and the members of your association. I devoutly wish them an abundant blessing in their own souls and upon their efforts for the young men of your city. May they be strong in the Lord. With Christian regards, I am, dear madame, yours very faithfully,

GEORGE WILLIAMS,
Y. M. C. A., Janesville, Wis., U. S. A.

"This letter contains a benediction and a blessing and is prophetic of success."

"Is there need of this Association work in this city? Let the open doors of half a hundred saloons give answer. They are like the yawning doors of the grave that never outward turn. The souls that go down through them are lost to honor and rectitude. What shall we do to save our boys from these temptations? Your boys and mine, dear mothers, must face them. Are they strong enough to resist? We gather our boys closely around us in the days of their innocence, but the time will come when they must leave the home nest, and then whom have they but Him for help. Will you ever for get that night when your boy first went away from home? There was no music in the house. Father read his paper in silence, and mother stole way into the darkened parlor, where she might cry alone unseen in the shadows. Ah, those are sad days when our boys go away from us forever. But if they must go among strangers, is there not comfort in the thought that they will be greeted in Christian fellowship, by earnest young men, yoke fellows and comrades in association work. I must plead for this cause tonight for the sake of your boys, and mine. Full and strong to the stormy ocean of social and business life are surging up the elements of moral pollution. Some of our young men, the stronger ones, are buffeting with the breakers, some, the weaker ones, are sinking down to death, and some are drifting away. Shall we, christian workers, fathers and mothers, stand any longer watching and waiting in the safe harbor on the sea shore, or shall we 'Throw out the life line'?"

CHARGES AGAINST T. L. ACHESON
Many Republicans Ask For Proof As to the Hogan Campaign.

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF ROCK COUNTY:—Rumors have been circulated reflecting upon the republicanism of Theo. L. Acheson, who will be a candidate before the republican convention for the nomination of sheriff. It is charged against him that four years ago Mr. Acheson used his efforts to further the election of John W. Hogan, the democratic candidate for sheriff. It would seem only just and proper, that those who know the above referred to rumors to be true, should come forth at this time, like men, and produce the facts that such was the case, if they have them. If Mr. Acheson stands guilty of these charges, we do not consider him entitled to the support of the republicans of Rock county. If he is not guilty a gross injustice is being done him. We believe these rumors spring from a mistaken impression rather than from fact. From our acquaintance with Mr. Acheson we believe him always to have been a true blue republican, and know him as an efficient, painstaking officer:

SMALL FIRE IN A FRAME HOUSE.

Sunday Night Blaze Started By Rags Against a Chimney.

The alarm of fire last evening from box 15, called the fire department to a little one story frame house on Marion street, where a small fire was slowly burning in the attic, caused by a lot of rags coming in contact with a stove pipe. The fire was extinguished with chemicals, the loss being not more than two dollars. The house was occupied by Fred Geesler.

ON THREE TRAINS WENT 700 PEOPLE

SUNDAY EXCURSIONS DREW IMMENSE CROWDS.

Ten Cars Filled With the Folks Who Wanted to Visit Watertown—Two Sections of the Train to Devil's Lake—Many Couldn't Get Seats.

Two heavy excursion trains left Janesville yesterday morning. The first was bound for Watertown and consisted of ten coaches and a baggage car, all comfortably filled with excursionists. This train was made up in this city and was under the management of the Concordia society and Bower City band. This train left for Watertown at 9 o'clock and returned at 11:30 p. m. The second train was made up at Aurora, Ill., by the conductors of the C. & N. W. railway, and consisted of seventeen coaches and two baggage cars, the train being in two sections. This train reached Janesville at 10:45 a. m., and returned at 9:25 in the evening. These excursionists went to Devil's lake. There was a large number of Janesville people on this train.

"There must have been at least seven hundred people who joined the excursion parties yesterday at this point," said Station Agent Potter this morning. "All the coaches on the Watertown train were well filled and when the Devil's Lake train came in the platform was crowded with people anxious to go. The train was so crowded that not more than half could get on board."

Both excursion trains were on the Northwestern road. The Bower City band went with the Watertown party, marching to the depot in the morning with the Concordia society.

FAIR IS CLOSE AT HAND.

Three More Weeks Will See the Rock County Show Running.

In three weeks from now the fair grounds will be a city in itself. Already a force of men are at work repairing buildings, fixing fences, painting and renovating.

The races will be of more than usual interest this year as the purses have been raised to over $1800, double the sum offered before. The entrance to amphitheatre has been reduced to ten cents.

Among the changes in the building the vegetable and grain department has been removed to the east end of the carriage house, thus saving the large wing in the main hall for pictures. A bit of news, interesting to artists is that E. C. Eldredge, curator of the Layton Art Gallery, Milwaukee, and one of the best judges in the United States, has consented to come and act as judge in the art department. This fact alone will draw out many pictures as many local artists will be glad to have judgment passed on their work by an artist so well known as Mr. Eldridge.

Charles Whitnall the florist of Milwaukee will act as judge on flowers and plants. The idea of the directors is to have professionals to judge in all departments. The merchants are going to make extra displays this year. In the main hall Dell Kolle will have a line of musical instruments and hold concerts every afternoon of the fair.

Miss E. E. Williams will have a force of type writers at work. In Domestic Hall Bostwick & Sons will make a display that will draw all the ladies for miles. Ziegler will show a line of suits that will make every farmer boy put aside some of his fall money to buy. Mrs. H. C. King will have six or eight to work on the Caligraph. Kimberly will have a printing press in operation and others are making applications for space every day. The ladies of the W. C. T. U. are making preparations to furnish better meals than ever before and everybody will be there to have some. The fair dining hall is for rent, also all privileges are now for sale and those who come first get the best space. Every one should make an exhibit of some kind. Stockholders' tickets can be obtained now at any time at the secretary's office. The secretary has two shares of stocks left with him for sale, this being the only stock for sale which speaks well for the society.

CAUCUSES ARE CLOSELY WATCHED.

Republican Candidates Keep Every Candidate Under Their Eye.

Local politicians are watching with great interest the result of the county township caucuses to be held within the next few days. Place seekers are very good natured and thus far have conducted their personal canvasses with the best of feeling toward their opponents. There are a large number of candidates for some of the offices, and the Gazette is pleased to note the fact that no bitter personalities are playing a part in the canvasses and that all the contestants are earnest republicans, who, while seeking favors for themselves, will abide and support the convention nominees. The nominating convention will meet on September 7. The city caucuses will probably not be called before the last of next week or the first of the week following.

Not So Shy.

We propose to overcome the natural shyness with which the money spending people are afflicted usually about this time of the year, by giving them good opportunities to save money by spending it. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

Just to Please Baby.

One day recently two ladies, one of whom carried a baby, entered a well-known furniture shop and signified their desire to look at some carpets.

The salesman cheerfully showed roll after roll, until the perspiration literally streamed from every pore.

Finally one of the ladies asked the other if she didn't think it was time to go.

"Not quite," was the answer of her companion; and then in an undertone she added: "Baby likes to see him roll it out, and we've plenty of time to catch the train."

A gentleman who had been invited out by A happened to be acquainted with the next door neighbor of his host, B, and, on descending from his hackney-coach, saw a haunch of venison roasting at the latter's fire. As he has no expectation of such fare at A's, he coolly changes his destination, and is welcomed by B to "pot luck." This he believes to be a modest phrase for venison, till the banquet appears in the shape of some bacon and eggs. It turns out that B's kitchen range was larger than his neighbor's, and A had obtained permission to get his piece de resistance cooked there.

of diseases and derangements have their origin in torpor of the liver. Deranged appetite, constipation, headache, sour stomach, gassy belchings, indigestion, or dyspepsia, are due to sluggish liver.
MR. JOHN A. DEBERRY, U. S. Inspector of Immigration at Buffalo, N. Y., writes as follows:
"From early childhood I suffered from a sluggish liver. Doctors' prescriptions and patent medicines afforded only temporary relief. I tried Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, taking three at night and two after dinner every day for two weeks and then one 'Pellet' every day for two months. I have in six months increased in solid flesh, twenty-six pounds. I am in better health than I have been since childhood. Drowsiness and unpleasant feelings after meals have completely disappeared. Respectfully yours,

Happenings On Janesville Streets Since Morning Are Here Mirrored Accurately for Supper Table Review—Comings and Goings of People Well Known.

The carding and spinning machinery at the lower cotton mill was out in motion this morning, and tomorrow morning the looms will start up, thus giving employment to a large number of operatives who have been idle for some time. The starting of the factory accounts for the low stage of water between the upper bridge and the dam. The large gravel bars which have been submerged nearly all summer are now high and dry, there being only two small narrow channels carrying the water from the up-town piers. Mill men say that they never saw a time when there was so small amount of water flowing in the river as at present. The upper cotton mill is not likely to start up until the flow of water is sufficient to operate the machinery.

An assault case from Clinton occupied the municipal court Saturday afternoon. Charles Keuhn and Charles Peterson were the defendants. A large number of villagers, including four ladies, were in attendance as witnesses. D. B. Barnes of Delavan, appeared for the prosecution and William Jones of Clinton, for the defense. The case, while it took some time to try, was one of a mild character, and resulted in the conviction of both defendants, who were each fined one dollar and costs.

Miss GENEVIEVE GUILD of Chicago, arranged a surprise party Saturday afternoon for her hostess, Miss Bertha Allen of North Main street. MUST GET A SENATOR
IN THIS DISTRICTREPUBLICAN MANAGERS BEGIN TO COUNT NOSES.

All the Safe Bailiwicks Must Be Gathered In And One or Two Doubtful Ones Added If the Senate Is to Be Put on the Right Side—Several Candidates.

Republicans will make a hard fight for state senators this fall. The necessity of securing a large majority in the senate is apparent when it is remembered that senators are chosen for four years and those elected this fall will be called on to help elect a senator to succeed William F. Vilas in 1897.

The Sentinel publishes reports from the various senatorial districts throughout the state where elections are to be held this fall and makes the following summary: "Briefly summing up the situation in the senatorial districts, it may be said that the republicans are almost certain to carry ten of them—The Third, Fifth, Seventh, Eleventh, Seventeenth, Twenty-first, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-seventh, Twenty-ninth and Thirty-first. The democrats are pretty sure of five—the First, Thirteenth, Fifteenth, Twenty-third and Thirty-third. The Ninth and Nineteenth and the Fourth and Eighteenth (the latter being vacant, as explained above) are doubtful. In both the Ninth and Nineteenth the prospects of republican success are quite flattering. With the five hold over members they have to start with, the republicans are most sure of fifteen members of the next senate, and if they carry only two of the doubtful districts they will have a majority. They are likely to carry more than two, so that they will be able to organize the body, but the closeness of contest is obvious."

The Seventeenth district, now represented by Senator R. J. Burdge, is composed of Green county, the towns of Union, Porter, Magnolia, Center, Spring Valley, Plymouth, Avon, Newark, Beloit, and the Third and Fourth wards in the city of Beloit, in the county of Rock; the towns of Cottage Grove, Deerfield, Pleasant Springs, Dunkirk, Dunn, Rutland, Christiansburg, Albion, and the city of Stoughton, in the county of Dane. In 1890 this district had a population of 57,804. The district is largely republican, and there are a number of first-class republicans who desire the nomination. Senator Burdge, it is said, would like to succeed himself, while Brodhead, Monroe, and Stoughton will each present candidates to the convention which meets in Brodhead, September 4, one week from tomorrow.

Miss Alice Russell.

Weeks of suffering were ended for Alice Russell Saturday evening by the touch of Death's hand. Miss Russell was twenty-one years old and was the daughter of James W. Russell, of 238 South Main street. She recently had a delicate operation performed by which one of her kidneys was removed and recovery which first seemed probable was made impossible by her failing strength. The father, doubly afflicted by the loss of wife and daughter will receive the sympathy of many friends.

Funeral services, conducted by Rev. W. F. Requa of Court Street church, were held at the house this afternoon at 2 o'clock, after which the remains were taken to Oak Hill for interment. The pall bearers were Charles Butler, Emil Roessling, Charles Roessling and James Kaylor.

PASTOR'S MAY MOVE
TO OTHER FIELDSLOCAL METHODISTS TALK ABOUT CONFERENCE.

Rev. W. F. Requa and Rev. J. D. Cole Would Be Welcomed Back But there Is No Certainty that This Will Be Possible—Bishop Fowler Presides.

There may be a change in both of the Janesville Methodist churches. Both Rev. E. W. F. Requa and Rev. J. D. Cole would be welcomed for another year but the plans of the church authorities may interfere. Rev. Mr. Cole, at least, will not return, so the understanding is. His successor is not known and will not be known until conference meets September 24. A Milwaukee dispatch to the Chicago Inter-Ocean says:

"There will be few changes in the Milwaukee pulpits. Rev. Dr. Halsey's five years' limit expires at the Grand Avenue Methodist church. Arrangements are being made, which will probably be carried out, to have him appointed to the Court Street church in Janesville. He will either go there or to the Waukegan church. Rev. Dr. Eaton of the Washington Avenue church, is talked of as Halsey's successor, but Washington Avenue will hardly consent to the change. Some man from the outside of the conference is likely to be appointed to Grand Avenue.

"Rev. Dr. Huntley, who is simply acting as a supply at Summerfield church, may remain another year if his health will permit of his taking a pulpit."

Bishop Fowler, who will preside over the conference, is remembered as the cause of the Milwaukee quarrel several years ago.

The trouble grew out of his refusal to take advice from those most interested in the appointments. It was the result of too much "wire pulling" by aspiring preachers, and ended in driving out of the conference half a dozen very able men.

We Don't Take a Vacation.

The man that makes the bargains never takes a vacation. In hot weather, when almost everybody goes away for a week or two at least, it is our busiest time. We do our work so well that the folks hurry back home to see what we are at.

BROWN BROS. & LINCOLN.

Good grounds for Hope.

"Do you think you will be acquitted?" asked a New York gentleman of a prominent man who was indicted for bribery.

"Yes, I think so."

"Has your lawyer given you grounds to think so?"

"No," responded the hopeful client, "but I have given him grounds to think so. 'I've deeded him all my real estate as his fee.'—Tammany Times.

She Plead GUILTY.

A wise mother, who deplored the teasing of a little girl of five years about a boy playmate of the same age, said protectively to her baby bud: "It is very silly to talk of my little Amy being in love with Harold."

"Well, mamma," said Amy, with downcast eyes and a plead-guilty air, "I am very much attached to him."

SETS A WORTHY EXAMPLE.

Where the Red Man Exhibits the Noblest Traits of His Character.

"The kindness and patience of the Sioux Indians in their domestic relations are very noticeable," said G. L. Sommers of Minneapolis. "I spent several years in charge of a trading post on one of their reservations and had ample opportunity to study their habits and customs. The women have certain duties to perform, as among other races, but the men do not disdain to help them on occasion, any more than does a white man of good disposition. During the whole time that I was among them I never saw a single family quarrel, and the children were rarely punished. I remember one incident which illustrated this characteristic which amused me not a little. One day the wife of one of the chiefs came to me and asked to borrow a looking-glass. I gave it to her and then watched to see what she would do. About a mile away 200 or 300 mounted Indians were congregated, watching a horse race. The squaw took the mirror, stood in front of the tent, and reflected a beam of sunlight from the glass along the ground in line with the group of Indians. In a moment or two a solitary horseman left the band and came galloping over the prairie toward his tent. It was the husband of the squaw and she had brought him to her side by means of this peculiar signal. The chief spoke a few words to his wife and then approached to where I was standing with a broad grin on his face. I asked him what brought him home so soon and he replied that his wife, knowing that he had quite a little money with him, had called him home for fear that he might be tempted to gamble it away. Instead of speaking crossly to her for interfering with him, he chuckled over her prudence, although he said he might have won a lot of money if he had remained."

A JUVENILE GRANDMOTHER.

Ellen Terry's Light-Hearted Friskiness at Her Work.

Some of those who have seen Miss Ellen Terry on the stage have met her in private life. She is the same gracious, kind-hearted, vivacious lady, with a touch of exuberant youthfulness, which will not, I imagine, desert her when she is old and gray, says an English writer. With the exception of the princess of Wales, Ellen Terry is the most juvenile grandmother ever beheld. Subject to attacks of neuralgia, she defies them, as all else, with her gaiety, her invincible spirit.

At rehearsal she is all buoyancy. Even to-day she cannot help playing tricks and diverting the attention of her brother and sister actors with her fun and pranks. Mr. Terriss, as well as Mr. Irving, can give evidence of this, and are often sorely tried to keep their countenance. For the rest, Miss Terry is generosity its very self, and has the large, sympathetic nature which her personality and style of acting suggest.

Emperor William's Piety.

Emperor William the First, at the close of the French war, dictated to his private secretary an address which he intended to deliver to the German army. The final sentence ran thus: "But do not forget that we all must be grateful toward Providence: for Providence has willed that we should be the instrument destined to accomplish what are such great events in the history of the world." The secretary having his own ideas, as even secretaries of emperors and kings can not help having, wrote "Providence has permitted." "Stop," said the aged emperor; "do you imagine that I could have supported the burden of this war if I had not entertained the firm conviction that Providence willed it? Write the word as I dictated it."

The Golden Kisses.

Edward IV., to raise money for a war with France, sat himself sundry hours every day to receive contributions from his subjects, who subscribed pretty liberally in consequence of their animosity to the enemy. Among others, a rich yet niggardly old widow, brought $100, a large sum in those days, to him. This so highly pleased the king, "that he not only returned her thanks," but told her: "For her kindness that she should kiss a king," which being done, the woman pulled out another bag saying: "Udsodidkins, if kings sell their kisses so cheap, give me 'tother touch of the lips, and here is another $100 for you!" The king smiled at this, took her at her word, and thought his kisses well sold.

A New Sleep Theory.

A foreign scientist, whom the account says is "a man of international reputation," offers a brand new theory of the cause of sleep. He believes the fatigue of the nervous system which leads to this condition of the body to be due to an increase of the water-holding power of the nerve cells. This being the case, the greater the ability of the cells to hold water, the less the nervous irritability of the individual. He further says that the sleeping individual is easily awakened as soon as the major portion of the water has been eliminated by the "sleep process."

How to Control a Sneeze.

Sneezing may be averted by pressing firmly upon the upper lip with the fingers. The "why" of this is that by so doing we deaden the impression made on a certain branch of the "fifth nerve," sneezing being a reflex action excited by some slight impression made upon that nerve. Proof of this is seen in the fact that sneezing never takes place when the nerve mentioned is paralyzed, even though the sense of smell be fully retained.

REFUSED TO BE RESCUED.

The Actress Faced Death Rather Than Sail in a German Ship.

"One of my most exciting adventures," said Mr. Strakosh to a Washington Post reporter, "was an incident which happened when I was managing the South American tour of Mme. Sarah Bernhardt. We were on the British steamer Cotopaxi—and a good, stout vessel she was—but somehow or other, as we were passing through the straits of Magellan we ran into a sand bank. The steamer drew eighteen feet of water, and had, unfortunately, entered the straits at low water. Every one believed that we were shipwrecked, that our engagement at Chile would never be fulfilled, and that we were doomed to stay where we were for three weeks—for you must know that it is only usual for the steamers of this line to pass there every three weeks. Sarah was distracted. She tore her hair, she beat her breast in her inimitable manner, and she used the—well, classical—language for which she is noted. There we were and there was no prospect of relief. This was about 9 o'clock in the morning. The scene can better be imagined than described. The ladies were in tears and frightened out of their boots, and even the men of the company felt uncomfortable. The assurances of the captain that all would be well were of no avail, and everybody was in despair. At last about noon the smoke of an approaching steamer was seen in the distance. Everybody's hopes revived. Aid was at hand and we would be rescued from our unpleasant position. Time went by and the steamer drew near. As she approached the Cotopaxi hoisted signals of distress, and she bore down upon us. But as soon as her flag was recognizable patriotism got the better of fear. The vessel flew the German colors! Sarah did not hesitate a moment. Her alarm disappeared. Rushing to the captain, a bluff English sailor, she flopped on her knees before him and implored him for the love of God and of France not to turn her over to the tender mercies of her enemies. She would rather stay shipwrecked all her life, abandon her profession and lose all her hopes of artistic and financial success than set foot upon the deck of a German ship. Surprised at her change of tone the captain consented and told the German captain that his passengers did not need assistance, and the Teuton sailed away. Rushing down to her cabin Mme. Bernhardt brought out a silk French tri-color which had been presented to her by some admirer and as the German sailed away she hoisted the flag of France and waved it triumphantly at the parting foe. At 7 p. m. the tide rose and we floated and reached our destination in safety."

FASHION NOTES.

Judic Chollet's Practical Suggestions For the Fair Sex.

Flannels should not be rubbed when they are washed, as it shrinks and stiffens them. They should be pressed and squeezed between the hands in clean warm water in which soap has previously been dissolved, and if they are sufficiently soiled to kill the ends they require to have the process repeated in a fresh supply of warm soapy water. When they are clean, they must be rinsed in warm water, pulled lengthwise, dried as quickly as possible and ironed when completely dry.

The pretty black and white gowns in thin goods, such as muslins and nainsooks, so much seen this season, would have been still prettier if some manufacturer had been clever enough to bring out a line of fast black washable laces in cotton or linen, like valenciennes or torchon lace, which could have been used for trimming them. The black lace at present on the market are only fit to be employed on gowns that are never damp and come to go hard wear.

Changeable taffeta enjoys as much favor as ever. Most of the large shops are selling off their summer silks, plain, changeable and figured, at a great reduction, and excellent opportunities are offered to obtain a light silk of good quality at a minimum cost.

Many women are freshening up their worn silk bodices by adding a plastron and sleeve trimmings of mousseline de soie or chiffon. This sort of decoration is fragile, but very effective while it lasts. Sometimes these diaphanous materials are arranged to form a girder with long ends fastened to the skirt by choux and full epaulets or a capelike collar. Almost all hats also are trimmed with mousseline de soie combined with ribbon or flowers or both.

Small capes or pelerines made of taffeta are coming into favor. Sometimes the capes are double and are made of two shades of silk, the lower cape just visible below the edge of the upper one. The edges of both are indented.

In order to give the skirts of gowns the proper flaring shape petticoats are worn trimmed with three or four flounces of graduated widths arranged at different heights on the body of the petticoat in such a way that the bottom edges of all the flounces are even.

The bicycle costume shown is of dust gray cloth and consists of extremely full zouave trousers and a double breasted round bodice.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.

A Remedy For Many of the Present Day Ills.

As the majority of women of the present day are more or less interested in physical culture, the following advice taken from an English article on the subject may be of service: Physical exercise should be taken regularly and continued through life. It is a remedy against many of the diseases prevalent at the present time. All who desire strength, health and beauty should take plenty of outdoor exercise in addition to the home or gymnasium exercises. Outdoor exercises help to the development of the respiratory organs.

Gymnastics should be directed toward promoting the healthy activity of the organs that make blood, to correcting defects and to the perfection of the human figure. The most helpful movements are also the most beautiful. The Greeks cultivated the body as no other nation has done, with this result. In training one should begin slowly and build up the weak parts first; then exercise should be taken so as to bring nearly all the muscles into action at the same time. This stimulates the action of the heart and lungs, besides increasing the circulation and respiration.

Many muscles of the body, from lack of use, waste away. The technical term for this wasting is atrophy, and to avoid it every muscle in the body should be exercised regularly. Light, quick exercise is the best. Heavy dumbbells or pulley weights should not be used. One hour's vigorous exercise daily is all that is needed and should always be followed by a tepid bath. Avoid everything that throws extra strain upon the heart, and aim at the correction of errors of nutrition. A delicate person should never eat immediately after exercising actively, especially if she has made the common mistake of overexerting herself.

The illustration shows a lounging robe of dahlia crepe trimmed with black lace and black embroidery. A band of narrow embroidery confines the shirred yoke, and lengthwise bands trim the elbow sleeves.

HOPE FOR THE HAIRLESS.

Professor Birkholz, of Chicago, Gives Hope to Those Afflicted with Baldness—A "No Cure, No Pay" Treatment.

Professor G. Birkholz, of Chicago, the eminent German specialist, who for years has devoted his time and talent to the study of the hair follicles, and who has evolved the most successful treatment for baldness the world has ever known.

He will carefully examine each case and candidly inform the inquirer whether his hair can be cured and the hair be restored. These examinations are made without charge.

In all cases where there are any hair follicles remaining undestroyed by age or disease the professor will undertake a cure, and if he does not effect a restoration of the hair he will ask no pay.

The remedy is an important one, and the treatment given by the professor is his own, and cures where all others fail. If your case has been pronounced incurable do not take it as a final answer until you have seen Professor Birkholz and received his opinion.

Many persons have small bald spots through the hair. These increase in area and in time produce baldness. In such cases the hair follicles need nourishment. Prompt treatment will bring them into activity and restore the hair.

The success that has attended Professor Birkholz everywhere enables him to give a positive opinion in each case presented to him. Those who are bald or are threatened with baldness should not delay treatment, but call upon the professor at once, 1011 Masonic Temple Chicago.

Hand this notice to any first-class drug

Avoiding Pain and Peril.

Defensive measures against the foe are ever adopted by a wise commander. You can be commander of the situation and strike a decisive blow at the start at that dangerous and relentless enemy, rheumatism, if attacked by it, by resorting in time to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which checks permanently the progress of a malady and the most obstinate, painful and possibly dangerous, against which medical skill and the resources of materia medica are arrayed. No evidence is more convincing and convincing than that which proves that the Bitters neutralizes the rheumatic poison and checks its further development in the system. For neuralgia and kidney trouble, dyspepsia, want of vitality, nervousness, liver complaint and constipation, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the leading remedy.

WAS NOT GREEK TO HIM.

This Learned Conductor Was a College Graduate.

"It isn't commonly understood that there are graduates from college who are horse-car conductors in New York but I discovered one such," said a well known clergyman. "I was on a car not long ago, and on the upper end of the route only the conductor and I were on the car. He sat down, took out a book and began reading at the end of the book and turning the leaves from right to left. 'That must be Hebrew he's reading,' I said to myself. The conductor seemed mightily interested in the subject, and he nodded his head approvingly and occasionally chuckled when the author made a good point. Finally I went over to his side and said:

"Excuse me, but are you reading Hebrew?"

"The conductor nodded.

"Are you a college graduate?" I asked. Another nod.

"What college?"

"85—Yale."

"Then he resumed his reading and I asked no more questions."

THE SENSIBLE VIEW.

WOMAN'S SENSITIVE ORGANISM

Does Not Permit Her to Do What Men Do, and She Ought Not To Try.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

You might as well know that you have a wonderfully sensitive and peculiar organism. You ought to know that from the moment the girl is changed into a woman, the matter of first physical importance to her is the regularity with which nature purifies her system.

That all through life this is of the very first importance to her, and that neglect in this direction means misery in every direction.

Stop and reason out what happens when nature is balked in its efforts. The blood takes up the poisonous particles, carries them to the lungs, and decay follows. It carries them to the heart, and before long the organ is weakened, and your courage and strength vanish. It carries them to the brain, and before long the wildest fancies run riot, you think you have every known disease.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one remedy whose power over this killing disease is acknowledged throughout the world.

It destroys poisonous germs, cleanses the system, strengthens the womb, and makes a strong, hopeful, happy woman out of a physical wreck.

Mrs. J. A. Rice, of Florence, Ky., whose portrait we are permitted to publish, is only one of many thousands who owe their health to the Vegetable Compound, and are doing all they can to help other women to believe that the same health and happiness will come to them with the use of Mrs. Pinkham's medicines. She says:

"I suffered eight years from woman's early troubles. I could find no permanent relief until, one year ago, I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Relief then came with it almost immediately, and at this time I am a well woman."

"I absolutely know, not only by my own experience, but by others also, that it is a harmless and sure remedy for irregularities, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness of the stomach, sick headache, and female complaints generally."

Behold All Things are New.

We meet the season half way. The multitude of big and little cases piling in upon us proclaim in unmistakable fashion that we are ready for business if business is ready for us. The ovation received by our recent arrivals nerves us to new efforts. Hereafter, as heretofore, our aim will be to supply and satisfy every want of the million and millionaire.

The Outlook

for fall was never more bright for the consumer. No time in our business history could we offer good substantial dry goods as low as we can today; especially is this the case with Dress Goods and Silks. We bought heavily during June and July and the fruits of our efforts can be seen at our store. We are prepared to name lower prices for first-class up-to-date Dress Goods than ever before. No wonder our trade covers a radius of seventy miles; there is no such stock to be seen outside of the largest cities, and even there no better assortments of medium price goods such as the large majority of people want. Even if you are not quite ready to buy you may gain something by coming in and looking over our large stock, which we are always ready to show.

We Keep the Quality Up.

THIS represents the "PADDOCK" a coat made in Kersey or Melton, in blue or black. A very handsome coat, and very low in price. We have an elegant assortment.

THE "CHESTERFIELD" is made up in Kerseys and Friezes, cut extremely long, with wide velvet collars, circular pockets and wide cuffs. Truly a gentleman's coat.

Leaders of Low Prices on all Lines.

... On the Hunt for Bargains.

At this particular time when the Dry Goods business throughout the country is almost at a standstill, the large eastern jobbers and importers of merchandise, are alarmed at the outlook and are letting out stuff at prices so low as to be simply astonishing. The merchant that grasps these bargains will be able to offer merchandise at prices almost 50c on the dollar. You have already seen this demonstrated on many lines of goods.

French Gingham have been sold at 50c the Dollar.
Cheney Silks " " " "
Outing Flannels " " " "

French Satines have been sold at 50c on the Dollar.
Calicoes " " " "
Cotton Cloths " almost sold " "

and many other lines have been placed before you at the same astonishing figures. Now we are on the hunt for bargains and with this in view have sent our buyer into the eastern markets with the intention of investing $40,000 in bargains.

We shall land here inside of the next three weeks, several carloads of merchandise at prices so low that we can sell at prices below what dealers who have large stocks on hand have bought at. Our idea for this fall is Bargains For The People.

Divide our Profits. The hunt we are making for bargains will do you all good.
